

1000 PERISH WHEN STETMERS CRASH IN FOG

The Empress was a vessel of 14,500 tons register or 20,000 tons displacement. It was 580 feet long, had twin screws, a thoroughly modern equipment, wireless and a submarine signaling apparatus. It was built in Glasgow in 1908.

The Stordstad was commanded by Captain Anderson, is of 3,561 tons, register and runs between Sydney and Quebec and Montreal.

Passengers in Life Boats.

Montreal, May 29.—A Rimouski dispatch to LaPatra here today said: "The government boats Lady Evelyn and Eureka docked here this morning with 400 passengers from the Empress of Ireland. Both captains reported that all the passengers were in the lifeboats of the Lady Evelyn, the Eureka and the Empress. As soon as the passengers are landed, both vessels will leave for the scene of the wreck to pick up survivors."

Canadian Pacific officials received a similar message.

The Empress' chief officers were: H. G. Kendall, captain; M. R. Steele, chief engineer; W. Sampson, assistant chief engineer; A. B. McDonald, purser; Dr. J. E. Grant, surgeon; A. W. Gade, chief steward.

Latest estimates were that the ship carried about 90 saloon, 250 second cabin and 650 steerage passengers.

Captain Kendall lost his ship at the beginning of his first voyage in command. He was chosen a week ago out of 100 Canadian Pacific captains for the position.

Salvation Army Personnel.

The Salvation Army officers among the Empress' passengers included: Commissioner Reese and his wife and daughter; Brigadier Scott Potter, financial secretary; Brigadier Walker, editor of the Canadian War Cry; Major David Crighton, of the immigration department; and his wife; Major Frank Morris, divisional commander, London; Colonel Gaskin, field secretary, and his wife; Captain Ruth Rees, Toronto; Adjutant Reeksted, Winnipeg; Ensigns Jones and Pencock, Calgary.

Besides these, there were three majors, four staff captains and two adjutants whose names could not be learned here and the 28 members of the Toronto staff band, with Adjutant Samsing and Captain McGrath, commanding.

In the second cabin, among others, were Miss D. Dalton, Miss E. Berry and D. B. Bishop of Vancouver; Mrs. W. Barbour and her daughter Evelyn of Silverton, B. C., and Henry Birkett of Carstairs, Alberta.

Over 1,400 on Board.

Quebec, May 29.—Canadian Pacific officials here admitted at noon today that at least 850 persons perished on the Empress of Ireland. There were more than 1,400 on board, and so far as could be ascertained, about 337 were saved.

The demoralization of wire communication on land in the disaster's vicinity made it difficult to secure definite information.

Crowds Besiege Offices.

London, May 29.—Crowds besieged the Canadian Pacific offices here today, clamoring for news of the lost steamship Empress of Ireland. Most of the vessel's officers and seamen were English, and their relatives were half crazed with anxiety concerning passengers. The Canadian Pacific's officials had little information.

Are Among Saved.

Montreal, Que., May 29.—Messages to relatives here of Marconi Operator Banford of the lost steamship Empress of Ireland and of G. W. S. Henderson, a Montreal broker, who was a passenger on the vessel, said both were among the saved.

Bookings here showed that among the passengers were George Edwards of Yokohama, Mrs. Graham of Hongkong, Laurence Irving, Sir Henry Irving's son, and Sir Henry Seton Kerr of London.

Californians Booked.

Los Angeles, May 29.—J. M. Findley and Sidney Mitchell of Los Angeles and Alexander Benhume and George Johnston of Santa Barbara were passengers on the Empress of Ireland, according to bookings made here by the Canadian railroad offices. M. B. A. Darling of London also was booked here for the voyage.

Story Is Told.

Father Point, Canada, May 29.—

Crashes Head On.

Picking together the brief wireless messages received from Captain Kendall of the lost Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Ireland and the somewhat more complete version received later from Captain Anderson of the collier Stordstad, which rammed the Empress in the fog, the following story of the disaster was constructed here today:

The Empress, nosing its way through the fog, heard the Stordstad's siren. Unable, in such thick weather, to determine the Stordstad's position accurately, Captain Kendall ordered the Empress to stop.

With the Empress merely drifting, the Stordstad crashed into it, head on. Heavily laden and low in the water, the collier must have struck the liner low down and torn an enormous hole in its hull. Otherwise the bigger ship's safety compartments would have kept it afloat.

The official returns have been received at the secretary of state's office from all counties except Multnomah and Yamhill, and in these counties the official returns have been canvassed and the returns have been gone over carefully and checked, so far as the contest between McNary and Benson is concerned, and there seems no chance for further change. This leaves McNary a majority of 13. Another feature of this remarkably close contest is that each of the candidates carried 17 counties, so that the counties as well as the vote was evenly divided.

MEMORIAL PLANS READY

Veterans and Ladies Will Gather at Armory at 9:45 a. m. for Trip to Cemetery—Parade in Afternoon.

The Sons of Veterans have made arrangements whereby the old soldiers will not have to make the one mile march to the cemetery this year. Autos will be provided for all and the members of the G. A. R. and the W. R. C. are requested to assemble at the armory at 9:45 sharp tomorrow morning. There was a time when the grand old men were able to face any and all conditions, but age is victor and the sons of the veterans have consequently provided means for the men and women of the old wars to be escorted to the burial grounds in the best of style.

It is hoped that every person having flowers growing in their yards will be liberal with them, as it is believed they cannot be put to a greater or more worthy use than to be placed upon the graves in the Salem cemeteries. Roses plucked mean more roses, and to him that giveth shall be given, and so they should be provided liberally and cheerfully for those who are not so fortunate as to have yards full of them.

The Portland, Eugene and Eastern will provide a seven and one half minute service from the corner of State and Commercial streets on this day. At the cemetery the firing squad, composed of eight men picked from Company M, O. N. G., under the command of Sergeant Judson, will fire the salute over the graves of the dead.

The down town parade will be marshaled into order at 1:30 in the afternoon and will march to the bridge across Mill Creek where the W. R. C. will hold their ceremonial in honor of the unknown dead of the U. S. navy.

Orders Are Issued.

General order No. 1 issued from headquarters Sedgwick Post No. 10, G. A. R., department of Oregon, is as follows: On Saturday, May 30, 1914, the Post will assemble at the Armory at 9:45 a. m. sharp, and at 10 a. m. will take transportation for the cemetery where memorial services will be held. After said services will return to the Armory where dinner will be served by the W. R. C. The Ladies of the G. A. R., where they will welcome all veterans will also serve dinner at Hurst's Hall with a fine collation.

At 1:30 p. m. sharp, the parade will form on Ferry street with right resting on Liberty street in the following order:

Salem Band. Company M, O. N. G. Chemawa Cadets. The Cherrians. Joshua Smith Camp Sons of Veterans. Spanish War Veterans. Indian War Veterans. Sedgwick Post G. A. R. Chemawa Band. Grant Circle L. G. A. R. Sedgwick W. R. C. The column will, under the command of Capt. Max Gehlbach, move north to Court street, thence west to Commercial street, thence south to the bridge across Mill Creek where Sedgwick W. R. C. will hold their beautiful ceremony of casting flowers upon the water in commemoration of the unknown dead of the U. S. Navy.

All civic organizations are cordially invited to join in the exercises of the day and particularly in the parade. A place will be assigned to any and all who may apply.

By order of R. C. Halley, Commander. D. Webster, Adjutant.

The undersigned have tendered the use of their automobiles to convey the members of the G. A. R. to the cemetery Memorial day. They will be at the armory at 10 o'clock:

CHARRED AND TWISTED BODY IS FOUND

Los Angeles, Cal., May 29.—Propped against a fence on the edge of Evergreen cemetery, the body of an unidentified man, charred and twisted, was found today. Nearby lay two half-filled bottles of kerosene, and the police believe the man was murdered and his body saturated with oil and fired to conceal the crime.

The corpse appeared to be that of a middle-aged or elderly person. What remained of the hair was gray. Although the body was roughly clad, the hands were soft and white, and the nails well manicured.

Detectives looking over the scene an hour after the body was found picked up a cheap watch, two nickels, a tobacco pouch and a knife. The ground for several feet around was trampled. Apparently two men were concerned in the affair.

prompt justice to a long list of petty offenders.

The first man to face Miss Jaeger was Pat Gerham, charged with molesting two colored women. When he saw the female Solomon who was to decide his fate, Pat's jaw dropped.

"Pat," said the judge severely, "what have you to say for yourself?" The unhappy prisoner shifted from one foot to the other and grinned a sickly grin.

"Nuttin," he replied, with a hopeless gesture, "nuttin whatever, yeronor."

"That will be $10 and costs," snapped the judge.

And so it went. Several common "drunks" were judged according to the enormity of their offenses, and an auto speeder was assessed $10 for taking liberties with the speed regulations. The docket was cleaned up in record time and the first experience of Tacoma with a woman judge is voted a success.
